

The Norwegian Council for Schools of Music and Performing Art

- An organization owned by 419 Norwegian municipalities
- Has always worked to strengthen the music and performing art school as an own, independent type of school
- Parallel to the political effort, the organization works all the time for academic strengthening in the schools of music and performing art
- These days the organization has a special focus on the completion of a new framework for the schools of music and performing art